In May, Vermont became the first state to pass a universal healthcare bill that would truly cover everyone. Learn how the people of Vermont achieved this victory during a lunch-time presentation by Jonathan Kissam of the Vermont Workers’ Center.

Kissam will discuss the grassroots Healthcare is a Human Right campaign, which mobilized thousands of Vermonters to demand their right to health care, and put the state on the road to achieving true universal healthcare.